Questions 7-12 are about the following story.

1 The day started like any other day. I woke up at six-thirty and went into the bathroom to take a shower and get ready for school. "Are you up yet, Jacob?" I heard my mom yell from downstairs.

"Yes, I am. Is breakfast ready?" I yelled back.

5 "Come down when you are ready," she said and then she laughed.

I wondered what was funny but didn't think about it very much. I finished brushing my teeth and packed my bag for school. I had a presentation in history, so I had some extra things to bring. I started walking down the stairs to the kitchen when I heard a strange whining noise. Then I decided to jump down the last five stairs but I didn't hop quite far 10 enough. My foot got caught and I fell face-first with a loud bang.

"Jacob! What happened?" My mom said as she found me motionless on the floor. Blood was pouring from my nose and my arm was aching. I couldn't move it, so my mom helped me up and took me out to the car.

15 Two hours later I left the hospital. My nose was fine but there was a cast on my arm. The pain had gone away, but I was very upset that I would have to miss presenting my history project. I had worked for weeks on it and was really looking forward to it.

"It's okay, honey." My mom said, knowing what was on my mind. "I am sure Mr. Anderson will let you present your project next week. Besides, I think I have something at home 20 that will make you feel better."

Then I remembered the noise that I had heard just before jumping down the stairs. When I got home, there was a new puppy waiting for me in the kitchen, along with my cold breakfast. I was really hungry, so I ate my breakfast. My mom 25 let me share some of it with my new friend. It turned out to be a good day after all.

Question 1 is about the following article in a school newspaper.

1 This semester, something very special is happening at Asheville Middle School. Four exchange students from around the country will be studying here. The students are studying here with a program that helps students explore different schools and regions. Students from our school — Janessa Flockhart, Dolly Stamps, Brian Bens, and Francis Reed — are spending
5 their semester at other schools in different parts of the country.

The new exchange students are Janelle Brown, Libby Simpson, Nick LoVasco, and Taylor Hernandez. They come from Georgia, South Dakota, New York, and Arizona. Our new exchange students have met many friendly students and have been welcomed by all the teachers. "I'm so excited to be here in Asheville," said Nick LoVasco, an eighth-grader.
10 "There's so much nature here." Nick told us that there isn't much nature in his hometown, so it's great to be spending time in the forest.

The teachers are excited about the opportunity to have the exchange students here. In their homeroom classes, the students will be giving short presentations about the places they come from. We can learn so much from them. They are staying with host families who live in 15 Asheville County. If you see Janelle, Libby, Nick, or Taylor, say hello. Make them feel at home in Asheville. It won't be long before they go!

Question

1. Why did the author write this article?

- (A) To prove that Asheville is in the country instead of the city
- (B) To explain why Asheville Middle School is doing this program
- (C) To introduce the new exchange students to the Asheville students
