

2024/9/28 リスニングスクリプト (宿題用)

Listen to a conversation between a student and a school cook.

G Hello, Mrs. Michaels. What is for lunch today?

C It is your lucky day today, Wendy. It's taco day.

G Wow! I thought that there weren't going to be any more taco days because of the food fight last month.

C I know. That is what they said, but the people who started the fight apologized, so I thought I would surprise everyone with another taco day.

G That is awesome. I am very glad that I came to lunch early today. I am still surprised that you forgave those students who started the food fight.

C Haha! (laugh) It is very important to forgive people, Wendy. They also stayed and helped us clean up, so I think that they learned their lessons pretty well.

G I guess so. I know I am glad that I didn't have to clean that mess up.

C It was pretty bad but it was a good experience for the students that helped. No one told them to. They just volunteered.

G That is great! Well, thank you for bringing taco day back. I am starving.

C You are welcome. Enjoy your lunch!